SINGLE TRUCK MISHAP—Virgil Slagle, 66, Route 1, Williamsport, was seriously injured when he lost control of the truck he was driving. The truck rolled over demolishing it.

Injuries Serious In Truck Mishap

A sixty-six-year-old Williamsport man was seriously injured in a single pick-up truck accident 2:55 p.m. Monday on State Route 56 at the Tarlton-Adelphi Junction.

Virgil Slagle, 66, Route 1, Williamsport is in intensive care and guarded condition at Berger Hospital with internal injuries, laceration to the head and fractured wrist.

Slagle was driving his 1952 pick-up truck southeast on Route 56 when he apparently lost control. The truck went into the ditch, rolled over throwing Slagle from the cab, and landed back on its wheels.

Sheriff's Deputy Bill Dountz investigated the accident.

Terry McMannes, 10, Ashville, was treated on the scene for abrasions to his left knee and ankle by the Harrison Township Emergency Squad when he ran into the side of a car 2:15 p.m. Monday in Ashville.

Richard E. Cottrill, 25, Route 9, Chillicothe, was driving west on W. Main St., at Scioto in Ashville when McMannes ran into the side of his car.

Investigating the incident was Sheriff's Deputy James Deal.

President Defends Cambodian Bombing

BY BARRY SCHWEID

President Nixon has launched his campaign to shift national attention away from Watergate with a ringing defense of the B52 raids he ordered over North Vietnamese troops clustered in Cambodia in 1969 and 1970.

Blasting away at "unilateral disarmers" in Congress and "some of the members of the press," he told a Veterans of Foreign Wars convention Monday in New Orleans: "We could have bugged out of Vietnam. But if we had bugged out ... we wouldn't be

GBBA, O-I Settle Strike

Members of Glass Bottle Blowers Association Local 235 returned to work Monday after ratification of a new contract which ended a 38-day strike in the corrugated shipping container manufacturer's plant here.

The plant is operated by Forest Products division of Owens-Illinois Inc.

Dean A. Logan, general manager of the plant, said the new contract was ratified Saturday by members of the Union. A skelton crew started to work after the ratification meeting with full 3-shift production starting Monday.

Settlement included increases in wages and shift differentials, improved vacation plan, insurance program and pension benefits and an additional holiday bringing the total to ten a year. The new contract was effective Aug. 18 and expires June 30.

Vegetarians Find Beliefs Suddenly Popular

By LOUISE COOK
Associated Press Writer

Vegetarians who've been shunning meat for years are finding it's fashionable these days to dine on fruits and vegetables. They're also finding that popularity has its drawbacks—like higher prices and more work.

"I used to answer our mail every week. Now I have to do it every day, and there's really too much for one person," says Freya Dimshah, wife of the director of the American Vegan Society.

The society, based in Malaga, N.J., is much stricter than most vegetarian organizations.

Members eat no meat or fish; nor do they eat the byproducts of animals, such as dairy products and eggs. They also avoid all items made from animals, including wool, silk and leather. Many vegetarians eat eggs and dairy products and have no prohibition on things like wool.

Mrs. Dimshah said "quite a bit of interest has been expressed" in the society in recent months, partly because of the high cost of meat and short supply of beef.

She said the society has several hundred paid-subscription members, with several formal chapters around the country. In addition, an unknown number of people adopt part or all of the Vegan philosophy after writing for information, Mrs. Dimshah said. The society published a book called "Vegan Kitchen" and a pamphlet titled "Month of Menus."

Discussing the meat shortage and soaring prices, Mrs. Dimshah—who was born in England and was raised as a vegetarian, although not a Vegan—said:

"We have seen this coming for a long

Hurricane Brenda Nears Mexican Coast

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Hurricane Brenda drifted just off the southeastern coast of Mexico early today after reversing course, and the U.S. Coast Guard reported a distress signal from a ship trying to ride out the storm.

The National Hurricane Center in Miami said that, at 6 a.m. EDT, Brenda's center was approaching the coast about 35 miles west of Ciudad del Carmen, a small port on the southwestern flank of the Yucatan peninsula. The advisory said the storm was drifting southsouthwest at about five miles per hour and was expected to cross the coast during the morning. But it added: "Since the motion of Hurricane Brenda has become slow and erratic, the possibility exists that the center may hesitate near the coast during the day rather than proceeding inland."

The storm center was located at 6 a.m. near latitude 18.9 north, longitude 92.3 west.

The Coast Guard in Miami said it had picked up a distress signal from the 441-foot Greek motorship Yucatan with 35 men aboard. The ship reported she was just off the Mexican coast and was taking water in one of her holds but could not launch a lifeboat because of the high seas, the Coast Guard said.

The hurricane is the second of the season.

In its progress through the Gulf of Campeche, Brenda generated gales for 150 miles to the north of the storm center and for 75 miles to the south. Heavy rains that could cause dangerous floods were predicted for the coastal areas and northern slopes of the mountains behind the coast.

While below hurricane strength, Brenda brushed the northwestern corner of the Yucatan peninsula on Sunday and headed north-northwest in the Gulf of Mexico.

On Monday, the storm began to swing back toward the south and pick up strength. After threatening the Mexican coast in the area of Veracruz, Brenda's winds had risen to 90 miles an hour with gusts exceeding 100 m.p.h. by early today.

The season's first hurricane, Alice, brushed the island of Bermuda on July 4, dumping heavy rains on the British colony but causing little damage.

Agnew Can't Be Subpoenaed

BALTIMORE (AP) — The chief judge of the U.S. District Court of Maryland says Vice President Spiro T. Agnew can't be subpoenaed to testify before a special grand jury investigating alleged political corruption.

"That's because he has been put on notice by the Justice Department that he could be a defendant," Judge Edward S. Northrop said in an interview Monday. "He could agree to appear voluntarily if he wished, but that would be his own personal choice. He can't be made to come."

Northrop also noted there are conflicting legal views on whether a vice president can be indicted while in office, something never done before.

Agnew, former governor of Maryland, is being investigated with other political and business figures—many of them his former associates—for possible extortion, bribery, conspiracy and tax fraud.

Meanwhile, in Washington, a Justice Department spokesman confirmed that Atty. Gen. Elliot L. Richardson had discussed the allegations against Agnew with White House chief of staff Alexander M. Haig Jr.

This discussion took place prior to Richardson's session with Agnew Aug. 6 to inform the vice president of the status of the investigation, the spokesman said.

He refused to say why Richardson discussed the allegations with Haig before meeting with Agnew.

"Executive privilege is a very grave question," Northrop said. "It is a valid defense, and it could happen."

"In a confrontation on executive privilege, or on separation of powers, there would, of course, be a full-blown hearing."

"What exactly can Congress and the courts get from the executive branch? This is now being tested in the fight over the Watergate tapes. That same issue could be raised here."

Agnew has denounced as "damned lies" allegations that he took kickbacks in return for state contracts while chief executive of Baltimore

County in the mid-1960s and later as governor.

The vice president has told Beall he will submit to a personal interview to "answer any questions you may have."

Oil Executives Given Allocation Word By Love

WASHINGTON (AP) — White House energy chief John Love has told oil executives some of them have shown "callous disregard" for regular customers under the present voluntary program for allocating scarce fuels.

"Gentlemen, you must make this voluntary allocation plan work," Love said in a White House briefing of industry representatives.

Otherwise, petroleum might be brought under mandatory controls that might never be fully removed, said Love, director of the White House Energy Policy Office.

The industry was briefed on administration fuel-allocation policies last Thursday, and the White House made the transcript available Monday.

Since last winter's shortage of heating oil and natural gas, the nation has faced a chronic threat of fuel shortages.

The voluntary allocation program is designed to make sure any shortage is shared fairly by maintaining previous distribution patterns. But Love said it has not always worked that way.

"There have been a number of instances of apparently callous disregard for traditional and long-standing supply relationships," he said.

"Apparently ... some purchasers have received far greater proportional allocations of fuels than have others."

Love said, "I may contact some of you individually in the near future to ask about a particular situation."

Fuel distribution must be approved, particularly in New England, the upper Midwest, Colorado and Missouri, he said.

Love was joined by Interior Secretary Rogers C.B. Morton and Commerce Secretary Frederick B. Dent in telling the oil suppliers that, unless they resolve the fuel Beall said the offer is still under consideration, with the final decision up to Atty. Gen. Elliot L. Richardson.

In other developments: —It was learned that President Nixon's chief White House domestic distribution problems fairly and voluntarily, public opinion may move Congress to impose a mandatory allocation program.

While the possibility of mandatory allocations was attributed to Congress, the White House itself had proposed a mandatory program last May 9 "for comment only."

Love said then, and repeated at the industry briefing, that the administration wants to avoid mandatory allocation of fuels.

Love said heating oil could run short this winter if severe weather puts heavy demands on fuels in the United States or Europe.

Phone Talks To Resume On Thursday

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Representatives of the General Telephone Co. and striking communication workers are scheduled to meet with a federal mediator Thursday in another attempt to end a month-and-a-half-old strike.

Thursday's meeting will mark the first time the two sides have negotiated for a week. A spokesman for General Telephone said federal mediator Howard Hughes had called for the meeting.

Some 2,800 employees of the company walked off their job July 16 in a dispute over wages and other issues.

General Telephone has offered a 7 per cent hike in wages, but the Communications Workers of America have asked for a 10 per cent increase.

Meanwhile, Portsmouth police Monday arrested a General Telephone employee they said was attempting to cut phone cables.

Officers said they spotted the suspect, Robert Nunley, 32, of Portsmouth, in a manhole and drove their cruiser over it, trapping him inside.

Nunley was charged with malicious destruction of property and released on $500 bond.

Weather

Mostly sunny and cool today with high in the upper 70s. Clear and cool tonight, low in mid to lower 50s. Increasing cloudiness with high Wednesday near 80. Chance of rain, zero per cent today and tonight and 20 per cent tomorrow.

Among the vegetarians is Joy Mills, the group's president. She said the society is dedicated to "promoting the ideals of universal brotherhood of humanity" and believes that "all humanity is derived from one life."

From there, it's a short step to opposing the killing of any animal. Miss Mills, who does eat dairy products and eggs, estimated that the society has about 6,000 members in the United States. She said interest of late has increased tremendously.

She expressed concern over one thing, however: "Will somebody start scurrying around looking for all the protein foods so that they'll be in short supply and go up in price?"

One of the largest manufacturers of vegetarian foods is Loma Linda Products of Los Angeles. The company is owned by the Seventh-day Adventist church, many of whose members are vegetarians although it is not a requirement.

"We just can't keep up with the sales," said Werner Carlson, vice president. He said the Vita Burger—including soybeans, yeast, salt, soy flour, onion powder and flavorings—"is selling so fast we don't know what next week will bring."

Shortages and high prices already are worrying some people. A spokesman for Granny Feelgoods, a vegetarian restaurant in downtown Miami, said business is booming—but so are his costs.

"Every morning I go down to the market, and I just hold my breath," he said. "The prices are incredible. Grains are not available. I had a problem getting raisins. Now there are no dates."

No Further Controls Seen On U.S. Crops

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — A top farm official in the Nixon administration said today that further controls on U.S. exports of soybeans and other crops are not likely.

Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Carroll G. Brunthaver said that, if such controls are ordered, the United States would "pay a very high price" through loss of foreign markets.

The administration imposed export controls on 1972-crop soybeans and other high-protein feed sources earlier this year in an effort to curb rising costs to American livestock producers.

Brunthaver's remarks were prepared for a meeting of the American Soybean Association. He said agriculture is "riding the crest of the wave" at the present time.

"I assure you that we are doing everything we possibly can to safeguard your markets during this high-water period," Brunthaver said. "First and foremost, we are not going to impose export controls short of some unforeseen disaster to this year's growing crops."

Brunthaver said the export curbs of last year's crop supply of soybeans—which provides meal and oil until the 1973 crop is ready this fall—already have hurt U.S. interests.

"Japan and Western Europe have told us they had understood that they would be free to bid on an equal basis with us and the rest of the world in periods of tight supplies," Brunthaver said.

A Page Of Opinion

The Beef Beef

Whatever the average American may think about the current meat situation (there aren't many persons who are enamored of it) it is developing into a classic example of a controlled economy.

Black markets are appearing, foreign buyers are stepping in to grab the bargains, suppliers all along the line are either closing their doors or holding back for better prices, and the bureaucrats are sticking to predetermined positions even though some of them admit they don't know why.

The meat muddle ought to be teaching those who called for strict controls some lessons. A cynic might even suspect that was what the administration intended.

If the government holds to its position not to lift ceiling prices on beef before Sept 12, the reverberating effects after that date could be awesome. Cattle withheld from the market will inundate the supply chain, but a shortage-conscious public will clamor for it. The result, instead of lower prices as some officials are predicting, could be a new upward surge.

In the long run, the problem goes deeper than the current controls. The consumption of beef has been rising faster than production for years. Increasing world demand for food, including livestock feed, has aggravated the supply problem.

Once beef returns to a free market situation, meaningful steps can be taken to try to increase the supply to meet demand.

New Chic Prose

By JEFFREY HART

In the old melodramas you had no trouble recognizing the villain. Not only did he wear black and have a mustache but he was physically ugly in the bargain. Everyone knew whom to hiss.

The same is true, allowing for variations, in the fashionable New Journalism. Here for example is Mary McCarthy describing John J. Wilson, counsel for John Ehrlich and H.R. Haldeman in her Watergate Diary, now running in the London Observer. Wilson is "a querulous, dropsical old party with a mean City Hall mouth and fish eyes that seem to be looking up from some horrible weedy tank."

Now this farfetched stuff is not really intended to convey to the reader anything about the real John T. Wilson. It merely plops the black hat down over his ears.

Of course Wilson's sins, one understands, are egregious: 1) he is counsel for E and H; 2) in an exchange over the scope of "national security" he showed that he knows as much constitutional law as Sam Ervin; and 3) not knowing he would be quoted, he called Sen. Daniel Inouye a "little Jap." This last must be much worse than Inouye calling witness Ehrlichman a "liar" over a live mike, since Inouye completely escapes Miss McCarthy's black-hat treatment.

But let's look at some more "fine writing." Exhibit B comes from Murray Kempton's new book "The Briar Patch," which is about the 1970 trial of 13 Black Panthers in New York City. Here, for instance, is Kempton describing the voice of one of the Panther defendants, one Michael Tabor: "It was the voice of the organ in the cathedral, a voice that made the ceiling above him seem like a vault over which angels and archangels leaned to catch the word of God arising."

If you like that sort of writing, you would have adored the novels of Aphra Behn and you would have been first in line to buy the poems of Ossian. Yet Kempton is much admired as a prose stylist by the chic intelligentsia, and "The Briar Patch" will, you can bet on it, be a huge pop-cult hit.

Place beside the McCarthy and Kempton mush the aesthetic striven for by the young Hemingway, and, after long labor, achieved in his work: "I found the greatest difficulty, aside from knowing truly what you really felt, and had been taught to feel, was to put down what really happened in action... the real thing, the sequence of motion and fact which made the emotion and would be as valid in a year or ten years or, with luck, and if you stated it purely enough, always."

Exhibit C, department of literary corruption. In the prose of writers like Norman Mailer and Garry Wills, taste, such as it is, obliterates fact and moral judgement fact and moral judgment.

Wills, for example, disapproves aesthetically of the Mission Inn, where Pat and Richard Nixon were married. "It is pseudoecclesiastical Wuthering Heights, mainly mission but also pagoda and castle. The St. Francis chapel, where big weddings are held, has an 18th-century Spanish altar and four big Tiffany windows. . . . The serious young man, son of a Quaker saint, docilely lines up at the marriage mart, where all the gooiest extras — orange blossoms, 'O Promise Me,' illusion veils — cover the emptiness of the transactions."

So the wedding was meaningless, an empty transaction, because the Mission Inn displeases the writer aesthetically. Could intellectual corruption be more gross?

According To Boyle

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — My friend Arnold, the office hypochondriac, was in a blue funk.

"What's the matter?" I asked him. "Have you run out of diseases?" "It's worse than that," he replied. "I just read that a city dog lives about one and a half times as long as a country dog."

"So?" "Well, by analogy, a man who lives in the city, particularly if he lives a dog's life, and I assure you I do, should live about one and a half times as long as a man in the country."

"So?" "Well, that means the city must be healthy, and that my doctor is right when he tells me that all my ills are imaginary. I don't like to think that I'm really nothing but a psychosomatic nut."

I realized Arnold was in a real crisis. When you destroy a hypochondriac's faith in his ailments, you kill his self-confidence.

"All is not lost," I reassured him, reaching for my desk medical dictionary. "The truth is, Arnold, you're sicker than you realize. You've got a lot of maladies your doctor hasn't recognized."

"Like what?" "Well, 'I said, turning the pages, 'You're afraid of being mugged, aren't you?'"

"Who can live in the city and not be?" said Arnold.

"Then you've got two ailments — harpaxophobia, the fear of being robbed, and rhabdophobia, the fear of being beaten."

"That's nice. Anything else?"

"Yes," I replied. "You hate cabdrivers. I know. If you're afraid a cab will hit you on the right side of your body, you're suffering from extrophobia. But if you're afraid of being hit on the left side, you've got levophobia."

"I've got both!" exclaimed Arnold. "But that isn't the half of it, Arnold. You've told me that you think the people in the apartment across the way are watching you. That proves you've come down with ophthalmophobia, the fear of being stared at. And I would also say you have xenophobia, the fear of strangers and foreigners, and, since you run from little old ladies with umbrellas on rainy days, you must be in the grip of belonephobia, the fear of sharp-pointed objects, and —"

Then I noticed that Arnold was heading for the door. I put back the dictionary.

"Where are you going, Arnold?" "To see my doctor," he answered cheerfully. "When I tell him some of the things wrong I've got, he'll probably think I'm lucky if I live through the rest of the year."

Skylab Crewman Given Haircut

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — The barber had to use a vacuum cleaner to keep the hair from flying.

But otherwise, Skylab did nicely as an airborne barbershop Saturday. Dr. Owen K. Garriott did the snipping, and fellow astronaut Alan L. Bean was pleased with the results. The vacuum cleaner was needed to prevent the hair from floating in the cabin's weightless atmosphere.

A videotape film of the process was beamed back to earth Sunday.

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

I have recently developed ulcer pains. My doctor insists that I stop smoking cigarettes.

I don't mind sticking to the bland diet he has put me on, but I can't see what smoking could have to do with a stomach ulcer.

Mr. F.B., Miss.

Dear Mr. B:

At first glance it is difficult for you to see the relationship between cigarette smoking and ulcers of the stomach. Your reasoning, undoubtedly, is that since you inhale smoke into your lungs, none of it gets into your stomach.

Well, this is false. There is a very definite relationship between the two, and doctors agree that patients with stomach ulcers are better off without tobacco.

The chances are better that an ulcer will heal, and be controlled more rapidly, without the effect of tobacco.

It is well known that cigarette tobacco in particular increases the amount of hydrochloric acid in the stomach. This definitely irritates the lining of the stomach and the ulcer.

It has been shown that nicotine in the bloodstream interferes with the secretions from the pancreas and the gall bladder that normally buffer excess acids.

You would be wise to accept your doctor's judgement as valid and sound.

KITTERY POINT, Maine (AP) — The Maine-New Hampshire "lobster war" isn't just a battle over those tasty crustaceans that lurk along the ocean bottom.

Some fishermen think it's all politics. Others insist the controversy is over potentially lucrative offshore oil deposits.

As things stand now, the U.S. Supreme Court may have the final say in resolving claims by the two New England states to 2,400 contested acres of ocean between Portsmouth, N.H., Harbor and the Isles of Shoals.

If the justices agree to hear the case and appoint a special master to take evidence, it probably will be years before a decision is reached.

New Hampshire took the controversy to the Supreme Court after two of its lobstermen were arrested by Maine coastal wardens for fishing in waters claimed by that state.

"Maine has apparently declared war on us," declared New Hampshire Gov. Meldrim Thomson after the second arrest.

To many New Englanders, the much-publicized controversy has been a source of some amusement but little concern. It's no joke, however, to the lobstermen who drop their traps in the heavily fished waters and earn all or part of their livelihood from the sea.

The underlying cause of the dispute depends pretty much on where they come from.

To Granite Staters, it's an attempt by Maine to blackmail them into accepting stricter fishing laws — particularly those setting a 3 3/16-inch minimum size for lobsters.

New Hampshire's minimum — measured along the body shell — is 3 1/2 inches, and the 1-16 inch difference adds up to a lot of lobsters.

"It's a very close measure," explains Maine Coastal Warden Thomas Flaherty, who made the two arrests. "A lot of the stuff that would be legal in New Hampshire is illegal in Maine. It just won't quite make the Maine measure, and they have to throw it back."

Along the piers at Kittery Point, Maine fishermen claim the dispute was stirred up by Thomson to score political points by championing his state's claims to the contested waters. "It's all politics," said George Spinney.

Bob Witham agreed but added:

Is there any place where I can be assured of relief from exposure to goldenrod?

Miss M.T., W. Va.

Dear Miss T.:

It is almost impossible to state which geographical areas will be completely free from ragweed and goldenrod.

These are the most common offenders that produce bouts of sneezing, running nose and itching of the eyes, so characteristic of "hay fever."

The American Academy of Allergy has compiled a series of "allergy maps" of the United States. Day-to-day reports are brought to their attention about pollen counts. In this way they can direct people to the most favorable areas close to their own homes where more relief may be possible.

Dr. Oren C. Durham, of the American Academy of Allergy, has these lists at his command. He is stationed at the Abbott Laboratories in North Chicago, Ill.

Your local Board of Health is an excellent position to recommend areas that are relatively free from the offending pollen.

PERU, Ind. (AP)—A teenage runaway needs a blood transfusion by Thursday or she will die, the Indiana State Police said today.

An all-points alert was issued across North America for Sheryl Marie McDonald, 17, of rural Kokomo, Ind., after her mother, Mrs. Raymond McDonald, alerted police here.

The girl, described as 5-foot-1, 98 pounds, with brown hair and blue eyes, was believed to be driving a gold and brown 1967 Buick LeSabre, police said. She left about 10 a.m. Monday with Kevin Dodd, 16, also of rural Kokomo, her mother told police.

Mrs. McDonald said her daughter receives a blood transfusion every three days, so she probably is aware of the situation.

The reason for the blood transfusions was not known, police said.

Turtle Race Draw Crowds

AUDUBON, Minn. (AP) — It may not be quite like the Kentucky Derby, but a Minnesota resort owner features races for his customers — turtle races.

Landes Jensen, who owns Jensen's Family Resort at Long Lake, sets up the turtle races using locally grown thoroughbreds from the lake. Top prize for turtle owners in the weekly feature race is a free round of miniature golf.

The turtles don't come out of the race too poorly either. They get a free trip back to the lake.

For those sporting enthusiasts who prefer to buy their speedy animals rather than train them, a few enterprising race-turtle owners are making deals before the turtles enter the starting gate. Prospective jockeys can purchase their own race-turtles for about 35 cents — medium to large size, guaranteed fast.

Each year, Canada's meat packers handle more than three billion pounds of meat.

All have been honored with giant outdoor statues in the nation's capital.

Many of the statues stand in small parks, providing a pleasant break in the swirling automobile traffic.

They also provide a constant guessing game for area residents and visitors, who wonder: "Who in the world was ..."

There's also the problem of keeping the statutory clean.

George Brown supervises the National Park Service cleaning crew whose duties include washing these monuments to the famous and once-famous of America's past.

It takes a day or two, depending on size, to remove the naturally accumulated and vandal-supplied grime and debris from each statue.

Arsenic Poison Fatal To 2 Men

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Two men died Monday of arsenic poisoning after they were stricken at a suburban North College Hill service station.

The Hamilton County Coroner's office identified the men as Floyd Huston, 46, and Fred Schlager, 68.

The coroner's spokesman said the men left the service station briefly and went to Schlager's home for a drink. The men died later at a hospital. Police were investigating.

Brown tries to clean each of the 144 major outdoor statues three times a year.

The crew uses 34 different chemical solvents, steam, highpressure water sprays and, in rare instances, sand-blasting.

The crew also replaces missing items. Swords and American eagles seem to be particular targets.

Brown fears for a monument erected in 1925 in Meridian Hill Park in honor of Lt. Cmdr. William Henry Scheutze of the U.S. Navy. He would like to see it moved to a more traveled area of the park.

"When you work on these monuments for 15 years, like I have, they grow on you — become a part of you," says Brown, who estimates it costs about $400 to clean a statue.

He's developed techniques as he goes along and as new materials become available.

Polished stone, he finds, is easiest to clean.

However, Brown's crew never removes the "green" from a bronze: that's much-prized patina from aging. Writing from felt-tipped pen writing is the hardest to remove.

Like the general public, Brown has had occasion to wonder what the originals did to merit a statue. He's become an expert on their history.

He also has a favorite — Christopher Columbus, in front of Union Station, sculptured by Lorado Taft and erected at a cost of $100,000 under an act of Congress approved in 1907.

Let's keep America the land of opportunity.

Historically, America has been "the land of opportunity." But "opportunity" is becoming a threatened species.

The opportunity to work and to achieve a better quality of life is threatened by the increasing problem of energy supply.

The energy crisis that seemed so big and vague and far away gets closer every day. Industry especially has become acutely aware of energy shortages. And every business and industry in America depends on an ample supply of energy to provide job opportunities for a work force that increases by over a million every year.

It's ironic that the emphasis on natural gas price regulation and demands for immediate and far-ranging environmental controls on oil delivery dampen the very hope for a cleaner environment, for better housing. Because the solutions to most of our other national problems depend on having sufficient energy to solve them.

Standing still, or keeping things just as they are, may be fine for some people. But for all the rest who strive for the opportunity to better their lives, we must have more energy. More gas, oil, clean-burning coal and electrical generating capacity to keep America the land of opportunity.

Columbia Gas is working to help solve the energy crisis. There is still a lot of natural gas deep underground in America. Columbia is test-drilling to depths of nearly four miles for this clean gas energy. This makes the cost of exploration and discovery more expensive. But, when you consider the alternative of less energy, we think you'll agree the price is not too high.

Gas is precious, pure energy... use it wisely.

Jamboree Cans Are Recycled

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Boy Scouts attending the recent National Jamboree at Moraine State Park discarded some 200,000 soft drink cans which have been recycled into nearly nine tons of steel.

Hauled from the jamboree site to a scrap dealer in New Castle, the cans were first compressed into 65 solid two-foot-square bales, then taken to U.S. Steel Corp.'s Edgar Thomson Works in nearby Braddock, where they were transformed into steel.

A U.S. Steel spokesman said the steel was being rolled into new steel sheet to be sent to manufacturers of new beverage cans, automobiles and appliances.

Skylab Crewmen Can't Find Leaks

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — The Skylab 2 astronauts, disappointed at not finding two leaks in their space station, return their attention to scientific, medical and engineering experiments today.

Mission commander Alan L. Bean planned a final test of a backpack maneuvering unit. Jack R. Lousma scheduled most of the day for telescopic observation of the sun. Dr. Owen K. Garriott was to conduct medical and solar astronomy studies.

They were in the 25th day of a planned 59-day orbital trip.

Bean and Lousma spent 12 hours Monday in a futile search for a pressure leak in a device that removes humidity from the cabin and a fluid leak in an air-conditioning system. Neither is a serious problem, but the spacemen would like to find and fix them.

Bean pressurized lines and tubes in the system with nitrogen and listened with a stethoscope for the hissing sound of escaping gas at 55 connecting points. He and Lousma then rubbed soapy water over several spots and looked for bubbles that would indicate a leak.

"No sound... No bubbles," Bean reported. "What worries me is that we can't get to wherever the leak is."

Flight director Neil Hutchinson said experts on the ground would try to come up with other ideas for locating it.

Lousma removed wall panels in the laboratory to try to find the leak in the air-conditioning system that cools the cabin and some electronic equipment. He looked for discoloration of tape wrapped around coolant lines.

Before he could finish the job, he was pulled off to help Bean, who was running behind in his checks. Hutchinson said Lousma would complete his work later in the week.

Baker Believes President Will Follow Court Orders

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Howard H. Baker Jr., R-Tenn., says he believes President Nixon will turn Watergate tape recordings over to investigators if ordered to by the courts.

"There is a need for a definition of the separation of powers," Baker told newsmen in Elizabethton, Tenn. "If the court rules on this, I believe the President will abide by the decision and the committee will, too."

Meanwhile, 64 former Republican members of Congress, including 1960 vice-presidential candidate Henry Cabot Lodge, praised the President and called for termination of the Watergate hearings.

Former Rep. Sterling Cole, R-N.Y., now a private energy consultant in Washington, said he asked 100 former GOP lawmakers to "speak out with a united voice against the rape of Richard Nixon and the presidency by some Democrats and a hostile press"

Baker, in his home-state news conference, predicted that when the Senate Watergate committee resumes its televised hearings next month there will be "substantial disclosures about dirty tricks" by Democrats. He also said, "I do not expect another Watergate."

Baker's comments about compliance with a court order came after Sen. George S. McGovern, D-S.D., said Congress must seriously consider impeachment if the President flouts such an order. Nixon's 1972 election rival made the comment in a television interview Sunday.

Baker is vice chairman of the Senate committee, which is seeking a court order to compel Nixon to produce tape recordings of conversations in his office with witnesses who have testified about events surrounding the Watergate break-in.

Joe Kennedy Given $100 Fine In Crash

NANTUCKET, Mass. (AP) — "Use your illustrious name to do a lot of good ... rather than having to come into a court like this," a judge said after finding Joseph P. Kennedy III guilty of operating a motor vehicle negligently.

The 20-year-old son of the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., was fined $100 and stripped of his driving rights for 60 days in connection with an auto accident in which he and six other persons were injured.

Presiding Judge C. George Anastos of Nantucket First District Court set the penalty on Monday. Kennedy had pleaded innocent.

The license suspension was automatic on conviction.

In explaining why he did not impose the maximum sentence of two years in jail and a $200 fine, Anastos said Kennedy already had been punished by knowledge of the injuries Pamela Kelley, 18, of Centerville had suffered in the Aug. 13 mishap. The girl was partially paralyzed and remains at Cape Cod Hospital in Hyannis.

The accident occurred on Polpis Road, the main highway connecting the Siasconset section of the island with Nantucket, while young Kennedy was driving.

Witnesses differed on the speed of the vehicle, which swerved to the side of the road and overturned as Kennedy wrenched the steering wheel to avoid a collision with a car. One witness said the jeep was traveling 35-40 miles per hour, another said it was going only about 15 m.p.h.

Other witnesses described the road as poorly maintained and narrow with several cracks and frost heaves. The Kennedy crash was the fifth auto accident reported on the road this year.

Alligator Proves Hit

ELDORADO, Ark. (AP) — A 12-foot alligator thought to have been brought in by last spring's floods has become a tourist attraction.

The state Game and Fish Commission says it may try to capture the reptile to move it to a safer environment and save it from the curious humans.

Alligators are not uncommon to south Arkansas, but the 12-foot long variety isn't sighted every day, and sightseers have been streaming to the barrow pit, or slough, by the Ouachita River where the reptile has made its home on the Union-Calhoun county line.

Ernest Williams, wildlife officer in Calhoun County, said crews had made several attempts to snare the alligator with large nets but "the 'gator just didn't want to cooperate."

Williams said public sentiment is leaning toward leaving the alligator in its adopted home.

Alligators usually submerge and swim away when approached by humans. A $500 fine for killing an alligator is designated to keep humans equally non-violent.

Butz Backs Farm Plan

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The new farm bill signed by President Nixon will provide an incentive for farmers to increase production and begin operating at full capacity, says Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz.

The former Purdue University dean of agriculture addressed a farm oriented audience at the Indiana State Fairgrounds' Coliseum Monday. He said the four-year farm bill will provide a government "floor" against possible losses.

Under the program, farmers are encouraged to produce wheat, feed grains and cotton with the government guaranteeing a minimum price. It will begin with the 1974 crop.

Butz predicted that beef, pork and poultry prices will drop after the ceiling on beef prices is lifted Sept. 12. He said beef prices "could go up slightly immediately after the ceiling is lifted, but generally will decrease when the cattle that have been withheld during the last month of the ceiling finally hit markets."

General Bradley Said Improving

LOS ANGELES (AP) — General of the Army Omar N. Bradley continues to show improvement after undergoing surgery to prevent blood clots from entering his lungs.

Surgeons at the University of California at Los Angeles last Thursday inserted a sieve-like device in a major artery. Hospital officials Monday said the 80-year-old general continued to show improvement, sitting up and taking nourishment.

Bradley is the nation's last five-star general.

Reds Top Mets 8-3 In 16 Innings

NEW YORK (AP) — Johnny Bench, the National League's RBI leader, figured he was in for a free pass when he came to the plate in the 16th inning Monday against New York.

"I was really surprised when they pitched to me," said Bench.

The score was tied 3-3. The Reds had runners on first and third with one out. Left-handed pitcher Tug McGraw was on the mound and left-handed batter Larry Stahl was on deck with left-handed batter Cesar Geronimo to follow.

"I figured they'd walk me for sure," said Bench.

New York manager Yogi Berra decided to challenge the Reds' slugger. McGraw delivered a high screwball, Bench drilled it up the middle and the game was untied.

"I'm glad that they decided to pitch to me," smiled Bench, "surprised but glad."

"We were trying to pitch around Bench," explained Berra.

The Reds wound up with five hits and five runs in the inning for an 8-3 victory.

Cincinnati's Jack Billingham matched strikes with New York's Tom Seaver through the first several innings. Billingham left in the eighth and was followed by four relievers, with Clay Carroll going the last four innings for the win.

Seaver lasted through 12 innings, marking the first time this season he has gone more than nine. Seaver raised his strikeout total to 194 and lowered his earned run average to 1.76—both figures are tops in the league—but got little else for his efforts.

The Reds almost won it in the 13th when they got a run off McGraw on a squeeze bunt by Denis Menke. But Cleon Jones kept the Mets alive with a sacrifice fly in the bottom of the inning.

If they ever invented a game called extra-inning baseball played with coaches, the Giants should be unbeatable.

San Francisco has gone into extra innings 11 times and 11 times come up with an extra-inning victory. Monday night the Giants took the air out of the Expos' balloon in the 11th with a 6-4 decision.

"Maybe we should start in the 10th inning," said Manager Charlie Fox, who has made all the right moves when the game has gotten over nine innings old.

This time the right move was going with old age, 43-year-old player-pitching coach Don McMahon.

"Do as I say, but pay special attention to what I do" should be the credo of McMahon, who entered a tie game in the 10th with the bases loaded and got the out. He retired the Expos in order in the 11th for his first victory of the season.

McMahon, who began his professional career in 1950, wasn't the only veteran to shine in Montreal. Ron Fairly, whose career only goes back to 1958, slugged eighth and 10th-inning homers to pull the Expos into 3-3 and 4-4 ties.

But in the end it was the young legs of Gary Matthews, born in 1950, that untied the game for good. Matthews

Newly elected offices of the association include George Fuhrman, president and Gordy Fraser, treasurer of Pickaway Country Club.

The sixth annual seniors golf tournament will be hosted by Pickaway Country Club Aug. 12-13, 1974.

Daytonian Favored In AAU Contest

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Air Force Lt. Phil Boggs of Dayton, Ohio, is expected to be the man to beat when the men's diving events get under way today at the National AAU Swimming and Diving Championships.

Boggs, who holds the national indoor AAU title on the three-meter springboard, will be competing in all three diving events, the one-meter board, the three-meter board and the 10-meter platform.

Chargers Seeking Direction

SAN DIEGO AP — The San Diego Chargers are a football team looking for direction. And after last season, the only possible direction is up.

The enigmatic Chargers finished 1972 with an offense and defense that both ranked 10th in the 26-team National Football League. They also finished at the bottom of the American Conference West with a 4-9-1 record.

Yet this is a team with a pair of strong, experienced lines, two outstanding running backs in Mike Garrett and Cid Edwards, and at least an adequate corps of receivers and pass defenders.

"There isn't that much separating us from Oakland, Kansas City and Denver," Svara insists. "We're shooting to win the Western Division."

He'll be shooting with essentially the same cast, except for one big change. Hadl, the starting quarterback for nine years, is gone, and in his place is the man with the once golden arm, John Unitas.

Svara, a conservative coaching strategist, is a gambling and

5 Inducted In Trapshoot Hall Of Fame

VANDALIA, Ohio (AP)—Trapshooting pauses tonight to honor five of its all-time great shooters.

One of the highlights of the 74th annual Grand American Trapshooting Tournament will be the induction into the Hall of Fame of Ned Lilly, formerly of Stanton, Mich., now of New Haven, Conn.; Joe Hiestand, of Hillsboro, Ohio; and Mary Meadows, of Grimes, Iowa.

Fred Tomlin, of Glassboro, N.J.; and E.F. Woodward, of Houston, will be posthumously inducted.

Hiestand, 66, a member of the Ohio state legislature, celebrated his induction early. He won the veterans' Class AA championship during Monday's Class Day program with 193 of 200.

While names like Hiestand and Lilly have long made trapshoot news, the winner of Monday's AA crown, Larry McKinley, of Rich Hill, Mo., is the national unknown.

McKinley won his first big title when he broke 22 straight to tie with two others during the regular meeting and then took the shootoff.

Deadlocked with him were Dale Millar, of Ashville, Ohio, and Joseph Staats, of Buffalo, N.Y.

Both of these shooters, like McKinley, had never competed for a national title.

In fact Millar chose not to enter the shootoff. That put the showdown between McKinley and Staats. The Missourian won the crown as he broke 96 of 100 shootoff targets to 94 for his opponent.

On Sunday, Bill Heiskell hit a 4 iron to the 175-yard No. two green and into the hole. He was playing with Bruce and Steve Helwagen and Larry Oiler.

2 Holes-In-One Made At PCC

Two holes-in-one were recorded at Pickaway Country Club during the weekend.

Bill Weldon aced the 173-yard 12th hole, using a six iron. It was witnessed by Steve Compher and Chuck Orr. Weldon's ace is the first on the new holes at PCC.

On Sunday, Bill Heiskell hit a 4 iron to the 175-yard No. two green and into the hole. He was playing with Bruce and Steve Helwagen and Larry Oiler.

Kansas City Rips N.Y. Yankees For 6-2 Victory

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Smile, Jack McKeon, you're on TV. "This is the first good game we've played on national television," said the Kansas City manager after a 6-2 triumph over the New York Yankees Monday night.

"Usually, we're sloppy."

The Royals, who have been upstaged whenever playing in the national spotlight of late, made sure that they would have a good TV image with a four-run fourth inning.

That put the lights out for the Yankees and helped to break a four-game losing streak for the Royals. Steve Busby played the leading role in the Kansas City production, winning his 12th game with late relief help from Doug Bird.

Busby, 12-11, had only given up six hits through eight innings until allowing the two Yankee runs in the ninth. Bird came in to get the last two outs and recorded his 12th save.

The Yankee defeat dropped them into fourth place in the American League East, four games behind the front-running Baltimore Orioles. The hot Orioles won their eighth straight game with a dramatic 4-3 triumph over the Minnesota Twins.

In the other American League games, the Boston Red Sox topped the Texas Rangers 5-4 and the Oakland A's whipped the Detroit Tigers 7-2.

Orioles 4, Twins 3
Brooks Robinson's single, the 2,500th hit of his major league career, tied the game in the ninth and the winning run scored two batters later on Merv Rettenmund's bouncer as Baltimore rallied for three runs and beat Minnesota 4-3.

Red Sox 5, Rangers 4
Carlton Fisk slugged a two-run homer in the ninth inning, his second circuit blast of the night, to power Boston past Texas 5-4.

A's 7, Tigers 2
Gene Tenace blasted two home runs and drove in four runs to power Oakland past Detroit 7-2. Vida Blue won his 14th game for the A's with a seven-hitter.

CARROLL RIGHTER'S HOROSCOPE

from the Carroll Righter Institute

GENERAL TENDENCIES: This is a fine day and evening to discuss with experts whatever aims you have of an intellectual, scientific or educational nature. You are able to work out plans for a new project that brings success with little effort.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Discussing with allies those new ideas you have can lead to excellent results in the future. Once your work is done engage in your favorite hobby. Do nothing that would upset others.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Your ideas in financial matters may be good but rushing into them could lead to losses, so study them well first. Make sure you don't invest far beyond your means. Show that you are sensible.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Forget worrying about what cannot be helped and engage in activities that will bring real progress in the near future. Join a social group that can bring advancement in your life.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Don't listen to what an opinionated friend has to suggest or you could lose out where it counts the most. Spend more time with kin in the evening and bring about more harmony.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Forget the social for now and start working on a plan that means much to you. Instead of confiding in others, work alone for best results. Postpone a meeting you have with an associate.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Getting into outside activities of worth is fine since you can then get results of another nature that you desire. Steer clear of a tempting new appeal that could only lead to trouble.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Put aside tasks that are not very important and take time to gather the information that is vital to your welfare. Sidestep one who is looking for trouble. Think along practical lines.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Make sure you take care of pending matters before you discuss new ideas with associates. You can easily get mate's approval of a plan that has already been discussed. Use your charm.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Before attending to those duties that take a good deal of time, thresh out a matter with an associate that is important. Take care of a public matter in a most clever way.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Take care of all those tasks that are important before you go out for recreation that is on your mind. Look for new clothing to add to present wardrobe. Strive for a look of elegance.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You need amusement to rid yourself of tensions and should plan for that now. Don't spend too much money. You can accomplish much in the evening when you are in a fine frame of mind.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Find out what it is that will help your family to be happier and then do your utmost to please them. Travel with care and avoid a possible accident. Keep an eye on your wallet.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those delightful young people with much imagination and a truly inventive mind, plus the dexterity needed to carry ideas through in a successful way. Be sure to give the finest education you can afford. Teach the value of money, otherwise your progeny could spend it far faster than it comes in. Give ethical training at an early age.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

NEW YORK ZAP — "These are the times that try men's souls," Thomas Paine wrote in 1776. He would have been far more dour had he been a CBS executive, a television station manager or an advertiser.

But then he wasn't involved in the cross-fire between proabortion and Right-to-Life groups that attends tonight's repeat episode of "Maude" on the CBS Television network. In this show, she decides to have an abortion. Last Tuesday, Maude learned she was pregnant and discussed abortion. At that time, 39 CBS affiliates refused to carry the show, which had no sponsors.

Before that show, Catholic and antiabortion groups were attacking CBS for scheduling repeats of the two "Maude" episodes, claiming the shows advocated abortion in the guise of comedy. CBS emphatically denied this.

Last Friday, a coalition of 18 proabortion groups held a news conference here to denounce the protesters and praise CBS' courage in repeating the shows.

They also said they were starting a national boycott against seven corporations they accused of withdrawing advertising from the two "Maude" shows because of pressure from antiabortion groups.

"You can't win. We've been getting it from both sides," sighed John Kennedy, president of the Mennen Co. He said his firm cancelled its sponsorship of one repeat show but declined to say why. The proabortion groups identified the companies they were mad at as Mennen, Alberto-Culver, General Mills, American Home Products, J. B. Williams, PepsiCo and Pharmcraft.

Only Pepsi-Cola, a major advertiser of the PepsiCo company, directly attributed its withdrawal to the antiabortion protests.

A Pepsi spokesman said his company sponsored one of the shows when it first ran in November but pulled its advertising scheduled for the repeat after many protests — he couldn't specify how many.

"Our policy is essentially hands-off in terms of any sort of prescreening or judgement," he said. But he added that, after the protests, the company felt it'd be best to bow out of the repeats "rather than antagonize all those people all over again."

Officials at Pharmcraft and American Home Products said their planned advertising for repeats had been cancelled but they declined to say why.

The fourth withdrawing sponsor, J. B. Williams, said its scheduled commercial had been a "make-good" — put in time CBS owed the company — and was withdrawn when the company found out it was the only sponsor.

"It (the withdrawal) had nothing to do with the makeup or the content of the show," a company spokesman said. A General Mills official said his firm stopped all its ads on "Maude" earlier this year for various reasons.

NOT A DROP TO DRINK—The woman is carrying drinking water through a flooded village near Tangail, Bangladesh. Drinking water has become precious in areas covered by floods, which contaminate many normal sources.

Living Cost Rise Lowest In Months

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government reported today that consumer prices increased two tenths of one per cent in July, the lowest monthly increase in eight months.

President Nixon's 60-day price freeze, announced on June 13, apparently was responsible for the small increase. The increase in the previous month was seven tenths of one per cent.

The Labor Department said there were increases during July in prices of food, rent and household services, while prices of clothing declined.

The price of food was five tenths of one per cent above June, well below the average monthly increase of 1.6 per cent during the previous six months.

Nonfood commodities increased in price one tenth of one per cent after seasonal adjustment in July, compared with an average monthly increase of four tenths of one per cent from December through June.

But the index for food purchased in grocery stores rose seven tenths of one per cent, which the Labor Department said is more than usual for July.

Prices of most types of groceries increased, led by fresh vegetables, fresh fruits, cereals, bakery products and poultry.

The Labor Department said some of the price increases may have taken place before the freeze went into effect, but were not measured until the July survey.

The increase in consumer prices for the six-month period ending in July was at a seasonally adjusted annual rate of 7.4 per cent, with the price rise slower in the last three months of the period than in the first three months.

Fluoridation Fight Has Cincy Upset

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—Cincinnati, Ohio's largest city which hasn't flouridated its water, appears caught between the state and the courts on the issue.

Monday, Ira Whitman, director of the Ohio Environmental Protection Agency, ordered the city to flouridate its drinking water by Sept. 17.

Two years ago, Hamilton County Common Pleas Court Judge William Matthews declared the state law ordering the chemical additive unconstitutional.

Neither the city nor the state appealed the decision won by anti-flouridationists here.

City Solicitor Thomas Luebbers said he will appeal the OEPA decision.

"I don't want to see the city put in a position where it has to disobey one or the other," said Luebbers. "This appeal will be an attempt to get further direction."

Cincinnati City Council last spring, following a series of emotional public hearings, voted to flouridate the drinking water. Fluorides, according to the American Dental Association, protect children's teeth against decay.

The city health director's office also said the chemical strengthens the bones of the elderly. Anti-flouridationists denied the allegations, calling the chemical poison.

The anti-flouridationists also succeeded in placing the issue on the November ballot. Cincinnatians have voted down two previous attempts to flouridate water.

Whitman said he based his decision Monday on an investigation by the EPA and evidence obtained at a hearing July 5.

The investigation began after a complaint by Cincinnati attorney Harvey Immerman.

"I think it is about time," said Immerman of Whitman's order. "We are punishing our children by not flouridating the water."

Mr. and Mrs. J. Julian Bowman, leaders of the Citizens Committee Against Flouridation, were in Europe and not available for comment.

Westfall School Board Prepares For 1973-74 School Term Opening

Westfall Board of Education, meeting Monday, made plans for school opening Aug. 29 and approved sale of an old school bus.

The board awarded the sale of Bus No. 1 to the Millwood Church of Christ, Washington C. H. for a bid of $1,001.

Operating under the extended day session again this year, the school district will observe split days for both the junior and senior high. High school will take up at 7 a.m. and dismiss at 1 p.m., same as last year. Junior high hours, from 10:50 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. are also the same.

Elementary classes will take up 10 minutes earlier this year, scheduled from 8:20 a.m. until 2:20 p.m. Morning kindergarten will be from 8:20 until 10:50 a.m. and afternoon kindergarten from 11:50 until 2:20 p.m.

Starting date for kindergarten will be Sept. 4.

Resignations submitted from three teachers—Carolyn Stein, Monroe 6th grade; Jeff Bigam, high school math;

Margene Moore, girls physical education—were accepted by the board. Miss Stein has taken a kindergarten teaching post at Amanda-Clearcreek; Bigam will enter private industry and Mrs. Moore will be moving with her husband who has accepted a new job out of state.

Eleven new teachers were offered contracts at Westfall. They include: Dennis Karshner, high school social studies and reserve basketball coach; John Tatman, high school social studies and coaching; Mary Gramelt, fifth grade at Jackson;

Peggy Trego, sixth grade at Monroe; Barbara Distelhorst, French and English; Jeff Tracy, industrial arts, cross country coach; Teresa Lynn Schultz, junior high EMR;

Faye Mullet, first grade, Jackson; Norma Feldman, first grade, Jackson; Sharon Neff, learning disabilities program; Linda Bayes Diltz, junior and senior high school girls' phys. ed.

David Adams was hired as bus driver. Offered positions as substitute bus drivers were Daisy Rowland and Anna Hafer.

The board discussed with John DeMint his request for an extension on the purchase agreement date, Aug. 21. Members of the board decided to investigate their legal standing before taking any action on his request. DeMint and his brother purchased the Atlanta school and grounds earlier this month at public auction.

A semester leave of absence was granted for Mrs. Helen Selby, junior high secretary, due to a family illness.

Superintendent Gordon Massie advised the board that the federal Title I funds have been reduced by nearly $17,000 requiring some reassignment of personnel who had previously been employed under that program for developmental reading. The board granted new assignments for:

Miss Pamela Carlisle, first grade, and Mrs. Nancy Moshtaghi, second grade; teacher aides, Mrs. Nancy Snyder as secretary at the junior high during Mrs. Selby's absence and Mrs. Joyce Kern as secretary at Darby for Mrs. Helen Allen's absence.

School lunch prices will remain the same as last year, at least for the beginning of the school term, the board decided. Cost will be 35 cents elementary; 40 cents grades 7 through 12 and 50 cents adult.

The school district has been informed that extra milk will not be supported by the federal School Lunch Program, so all half pint cartons not included with the regular lunch will cost a student eight cents each.

The board granted permission for the Williamsport Sulphur Spring Festival organization to use the sidewalk and adjacent ground of Williamsport School, facing Route 22 and Main St., for their festival Sept. 12 - 16.

James Dean was nominated as the board's representative to the Ohio School Boards Assn. conference and trade show to be held at Veterans Memorial, Columbus, Nov. 13-15. Mrs. Jeanne Lett was selected alternate representative.

A request by Mrs. Alice Haddox, Route 1, Williamsport, for the school district to provide payment of transportation and tuition for her daughter to the Alexander Graham Bell School in Columbus, was given board approval.

In addition, the board awarded school bus insurance for the fleet of 21 buses to Shelby Mutual Insurance Co. for $2,341. Local agent for that company is Lewis E. Cook and Son, Circleville.

Board members Jeanne Lett, James Dean, Dave Long, Bruce Stevenson and Cooke Metzger adjourned their meeting until Thursday 8 p.m.

City To Receive License Revenue

Circleville will receive $7,973 from the total of $5,108,758 collected in Ohio for locally levied motor vehicle registration fees in the second advance for 1973.

The piggy back registration fee is $5 per vehicle and is in addition to the $10 state registration fee and optional $5 special license plate charge.

Since the county did not choose to levy the piggy back fee, the city of Circleville did and will receive 100 per cent of the returned revenue.

Authorities Mum About Nixon Plot

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Federal and city law enforcement officials are saying little publicly about a "possible conspiracy" to assassinate President Nixon during a brief visit here.

One federal source close to the investigation of the alleged plan said Monday it should be taken seriously even though nothing happened.

"It's something you shouldn't pooh-pooh," he said. "You'll just have to watch developments of the next few days."

But a source in the New Orleans Police Department commented, "This is going to be another one of those investigations which just drags on forever. I think it's been badly blown out of proportion."

Both sources declined the use of their names.

Police Supt. Clarence Giarrusso said, "For approximately one week, we have been working on an attempt to assassinate the President. But as of now, we do not have sufficient evidence to put this in perspective."

Giarrusso refused to say whether more than one person had been involved in the alleged conspiracy, whether an organized group was involved or why the conspirators wanted to kill Nixon.

The alleged assassination conspiracy prompted Nixon to cancel a five-block motorcade down Canal Street on Monday as he arrived here to speak before the convention of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Instead, the President motored directly from the airport to the Rivergate Convention Center.

Meanwhile, the Secret Service filed a warrant against former New Orleans policeman Edwin M. Gaudet, charging that he had threatened Nixon's life in comments made in a Canal Street drugstore last week.

Secret Service agents said they exchanged gunfire Monday night near Arroyo Hondo, N.M., with a man they believed to be Gaudet, 29.

Authorities said they had no reason to connect Gaudet with the alleged assassination conspiracy.

The Secret Service said it warned Nixon Sunday night that it had uncovered a "possible conspiracy to assassinate the President" and that he agreed to change his route into the city.

But when he arrived at the Rivergate without incident, Nixon mingled briefly with a crowd gathered outside the building.

Paralyzing Strike Reported In Chile

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — Chile was hit by a paralyzing nationwide strike today, and disputes within the armed forces simmered below the surface.

The 140,000 shop owners of the Small Businessmen's Confederation agreed to close their shops for 48 hours.

The action was partly in support of the trucking and transport strike now in its 27th day and partly to call attention to the shopkeepers' claim that the leftist government is trying to put them out of business.

Also on strike are construction workers, employees of the national airline, thousands of professional workers and half the country's 6,000 doctors.

Meanwhile, President Salvador Allende flew back from southern Chile to clear up a potentially dangerous situation that had developed around Gen. Cesar Ruiz, the commander of the air force.

Ruiz, one of three military men recently added to Allende's cabinet in a move to end the truckers' strike, resigned Friday as public works and transport minister after failing to end the walkout. Allende replaced him in the cabinet and also named a new air force commander. But Ruiz said in a broadcast Sunday night that he had not relinquished the air force post.

Monday morning, the air force public relations office issued a communique saying all units had been put on the alert and that Ruiz was the air force's only "authentic" leader. Naval officers ordered their men to stand by in their barracks, and air force commanders sent their jet fighters away from Santiago to keep them from being grounded by the army.

However, after extended consultations between Allende and the military leaders, Ruiz handed over his command to Gen. Gustavo Leigh at a ceremony attended by the president.

Clermont County Fires 13 Workers

BATAVIA, Ohio (AP) — Clermont County has fired 13 of its 17 sewage treatment plant workers by invoking Ohio's Ferguson Act which prohibits public employees from walkouts.

The workers, represented by Local 415 of the Carpenters Union, struck Thursday in a wage contract dispute with the Clermont County Commissioners.

The men were employed at four plants in the county. Four others, who were on vacation during the walkout, were not fired.

Mind Teaser

QUEBEC (AP) — In times or places where men fear starvation, the fat woman is beautiful, says Dr. Jean Tremolieres, of the dietary research unit at the Bichat Hospital in Paris.

Speaking to the annual meeting of the Canadian Pediatric Society here, Tremolieres said a woman's plumpness offers reassurance that the fear of starvation will not come true.
